

Terms & Conditions of Matrimony Website

Welcome to www.Pairforever.in here by referred as "Website". By accessing or using this Website, you agree to comply with and be bound by the following terms and conditions ("Terms"). If you do not agree to these Terms, please do not use the Website or login or impersonate login with others.

1. User Eligibility: Here you/user/bride/groom/representative/ login holder/customer/beneficiary represented as "you" BY USING THE SERVICES OR THE SOFTWARE, YOU AFFIRM THAT YOU ARE OF LEGAL AGE TO ENTER INTO THE TERMS OR, for representation, THAT YOU HAVE OBTAINED PARENTAL OR GUARDIAN/Representative CONSENT TO ENTER INTO THE TERMS.

You must be at least Eighteen years old to use this Website as to create login for on behalf with prior permission or twenty years eligible age for marriage age as per Indian to use the services & post your profile/information for match making.

By using this Website, you represent and warrant that you have the legal capacity to enter into a binding agreement.

2. Registration and Profiles:

You must provide accurate and truthful information during the registration process.

You are solely responsible for the information you provide in your profile.

The Website reserves the right to review and approve or reject profiles, without providing reasons.

3. Content and Usage:

You agree not to use the Website for any unlawful, abusive, or malicious purpose.

You will not upload or share content that is false, misleading, defamatory, or infringes upon the rights of others.

The Website is not responsible for the accuracy or reliability of usergenerated content.

4. Privacy and Data Security:

Your personal information will be treated in accordance with our Privacy Policy [link to privacy policy].

We implement reasonable security measures but cannot guarantee the security of your data.

5. User Conduct:

You agree to treat other users with respect and refrain from harassing, threatening, or discriminatory behavior.

You will not use the Website to promote or engage in any commercial activity without prior consent

Users who shall mediate with information found the website is strictly discouraged & strict action shall be taken against them.

6. Communication:

The Website may facilitate communication between users via email, address, phone number but we do not monitor or control such communication.

We are not responsible for the content of messages exchanged between users and beyond our preview to monitor. Any mischievous, unintentional, unlawful shall be about profiles/ fake profile can be brought to the notice so as they shall be diable permanently.

7. Third Party Links:

The Website may contain links to third party websites through advertisements, We are not responsible for the content or practices of these websites or genuity nor we endorser promote such advertisements.

8. Disclaimer of Warranty:

The Website is provided on an "as is" basis. We do not make any warranties regarding its availability, accuracy, or reliability.

9. Limitation of Liability:

The Website will not be liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, consequential, or punitive damages arising out of your use of the Website.

10. Termination:

The Website reserves the right to terminate or suspend your access to the Website at any time, without notice and the user shall save the data displayed as per preferences and no update shall be provided regarding matched profile or other data. As the users may any time delete or hibernate about data of the profile

11. Governing Law:

The jurisdiction is primarily governed by Indian laws, with the central office situated in Hyderabad, Telangana, ensuring compliance with the legal framework of the state.

12. Changes to Terms:

We reserve the right to update or modify these Terms at any time. Your continued use of the Website after such changes constitutes your acceptance of the updated Terms.

By using the Website, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agreed to these Terms.

Impersonation Terms & Conditions

1. Prohibited Impersonation:

Impersonation refers to the act of presenting oneself as another individual or entity, whether it is a real person, celebrity, fictional character, or any other identity.

Impersonation is strictly prohibited on this matrimonial website. Users are not allowed to create profiles or engage in any activity that involves impersonating another person.

2. Accuracy of Information:

Users must provide accurate and truthful information in their profiles. This includes using their real names, photos, and other personal details.

Creating a profile with false, misleading, or fabricated information is considered a form of impersonation and is a violation of these terms.

3. Profile Authenticity:

Users are responsible for ensuring the authenticity of the information they provide on their profiles.

Any attempt to use someone else's photos, personal details, or any misleading information to create a false identity will result in immediate account suspension or termination.

4. Verification Measures:

The matrimonial website may implement verification measures, such as email confirmation, phone number verification, or identity documentation submission, to ensure the authenticity of user profiles. Community verification for those who associate with community/caste groups.

Users who refuse or fail to comply with these verification measures may be considered in violation of the impersonation terms.

5. Reporting Impersonation:

Users are encouraged to report any suspicious profiles or instances of impersonation to the website administrators.

Reports should include relevant details and evidence to help the website administrators investigate and take appropriate action.

6. Consequences of Impersonation:

Impersonation is a serious violation of these terms and can lead to immediate suspension or permanent termination of the user's account.

In cases of deliberate or malicious impersonation, legal action may be taken against the offending user.

7. User Responsibility:

Users are responsible for the content they upload, share, or communicate on the website. This includes taking precautions to prevent impersonation and respecting the identities and privacy of other users. There by those user who do not get A.P.I verification or community verification as identified only profile id

8. Liability:

The website shall not be held liable for any consequences arising from impersonation or identity misrepresentation by users. Users engage with the website at their own risk.

9. Cooperation with Authorities:

In cases of severe impersonation or identity fraud, the website may cooperate with law enforcement agencies to provide relevant information for investigation.

10. Changes to Impersonation Terms:

The website reserves the right to update or modify these impersonation terms and conditions at any time. Continued use of the website after such changes constitutes user acceptance of the updated terms.

Indemnity Terms & Conditions

1. User Responsibility:

By using this matrimonial website ("Website"), you agree to indemnify and hold harmless the website, its owners, operators, affiliates, employees, and agents ("Indemnified Parties") from any claims, damages, losses, liabilities, costs, and expenses, including legal fees, arising out of or related to your use of the Website, violation of these terms, or infringement of any third party rights.

2. User Content:

You agree to indemnify the Indemnified Parties against any claims or actions arising from the content you upload, share, or communicate through the Website. This includes, but is not limited to, text, photos, videos, and any other information you provide.

3. Breach of Terms:

In the event that you breach any of the terms and conditions outlined in the Website's terms of use, you agree to indemnify the Indemnified Parties against any claims, liabilities, or losses resulting from your breach.

4. Third Party Claims:

You agree to indemnify the Indemnified Parties from any claims brought by third parties against them, arising from or related to your use of the Website or interactions with other users. This includes, but is not limited to, claims of defamation, infringement, privacy violations, or other unlawful activities.

5. Legal Costs:

If the Indemnified Parties incur legal fees or expenses as a result of your actions on the Website, you agree to indemnify them for these costs, including attorney's fees and court costs.

6. Notification and Defense:

In the event that a claim or action is brought against any of the Indemnified Parties, you agree to promptly notify them and provide them with the necessary information to defend against such claims. You agree to cooperate fully in any legal defense proceedings.

7. No Limitation of Rights:

Indemnity granted under these terms shall not limit any other rights or remedies available to the Indemnified Parties. It is in addition to any other contractual or legal obligations.

8. Disclaimer of Liability:

The Indemnified Parties shall not be liable for any damages, losses, or liabilities arising out of your use of the Website. Your indemnification obligations shall not be affected by any limitations of liability outlined in the Website's terms of use.

9. Governing Law and Jurisdiction:

These indemnity terms and conditions are governed by the Indian laws. Any disputes arising from these terms shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts in Hyderabad, Telangana

10. Changes to Indemnity Terms:

The Website reserves the right to update or modify these indemnity terms and conditions at any time. Continued use of the Website after such changes constitutes your acceptance of the updated terms.

By using the matrimonial website, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agreed to these Indemnity Terms & Conditions.

Please customize and adapt these indemnity terms and conditions to suit your specific website's needs, and ensure that they are reviewed by a legal professional to ensure compliance with relevant laws and regulations.

The Copyright Act in India is a legislation that governs the protection of intellectual property rights related to creative works. The Copyright Act of India was first enacted in 1957 and has been subsequently amended to accommodate changes in technology and international agreements. As of my last update in September 2021, here's a brief overview of the Copyright Act in India:

Key Provisions and Features:

1. Protected Works: The Copyright Act protects a wide range of works, including literary, dramatic, musical, and artistic works, as well as cinematograph films and sound recordings.

2. Authorship and Ownership: The author of a work is usually the first owner of the copyright, unless the work was created as part of employment or under a contract. In such cases, the employer or the person commissioning the work may be the first owner.

3. Duration of Copyright: The duration of copyright protection varies depending on the type of work. In general:

Literary, dramatic, musical, and artistic works: The lifetime of the author plus 60 years from the year of the author's death.

Cinematograph films and sound recordings: 60 years from the year of publication.

Government works: 60 years from the year of publication.

4. Copyright Infringement: The Copyright Act grants copyright holders exclusive rights to reproduce, distribute, perform, and adapt their works. Unauthorized use of copyrighted works constitutes infringement and can lead to legal action.

5. Fair Use and Exceptions: The Act also provides for certain exceptions to copyright protection, allowing limited use of copyrighted material for purposes such as criticism, review, news reporting, education, and research, provided it is accompanied by proper attribution and does not harm the commercial interests of the copyright owner.

6. Registration: While copyright protection is automatic upon creation of a work, authors can choose to register their works with the Copyright Office to establish a public record of ownership. Registration can be helpful in legal disputes.

7. Moral Rights: The Act recognizes the moral rights of authors, which include the right to be identified as the author of a work and the right to object to any distortion, mutilation, or modification of the work that could harm the author's reputation.

8. Digital Environment: The Act has been amended to address issues related to the digital environment, including protection for digital works, technological protection measures, and rights management information.

It's important to note that laws can change, and my knowledge is based on information available up until September 2021. If you require the most current and accurate information about the Copyright Act in India, I recommend consulting an official legal source, such as the Indian Copyright Office or legal professionals specializing in copyright law in India.

Users who infringe upon the Copyright Act can engage in activities that violate the exclusive rights granted to copyright holders. Copyright infringement occurs when someone uses, reproduces, distributes, displays, performs, or creates derivative works from copyrighted material without obtaining proper authorization from the copyright owner. Here are some common examples of copyright infringement by users:

1. Unauthorized Copying and Distribution: This includes making unauthorized copies of copyrighted books, music, movies, software, or other content and distributing them to others without permission.

2. Piracy: Offering or downloading copyrighted material from unauthorized sources, such as torrent websites or filesharing platforms, is a common form of copyright infringement.

3. Posting Content Without Permission: Uploading copyrighted content to websites, social media, or other platforms without the copyright owner's permission can lead to infringement.

4. Plagiarism: Using someone else's written or creative work without proper attribution or authorization constitutes plagiarism and can also be a form of copyright infringement.

5. Adapting or Creating Derivative Works: Creating adaptations or derivative works based on copyrighted material without permission, such as fan fiction or remixes, can infringe upon the original copyright.

6. Performances and Public Displays: Publicly performing copyrighted music, films, plays, or other content without obtaining the necessary licenses is considered infringement.

7. Use of Software Without License: Using or distributing software without proper licenses or authorization from the software copyright holder is a violation of copyright law.

8. Online Streaming: Unauthorized streaming of copyrighted content, including movies, TV shows, and sports events, can also be a form of copyright infringement.

Consequences of Copyright Infringement:

Copyright infringement can have serious consequences, including:

Legal Action: Copyright holders have the right to take legal action against infringers, which could result in lawsuits, fines, and damages.

Takedown Notices: Copyright owners or their representatives can issue takedown notices to website hosts and online platforms, requesting the removal of infringing content.

Monetary Damages: Courts may award monetary damages to copyright holders for losses suffered due to infringement.

Criminal Penalties: In some cases, copyright infringement can lead to criminal charges and penalties.

Permanent Removal of Content: In cases of repeated infringement, online accounts or websites hosting infringing content can be permanently removed or banned.

To avoid copyright infringement, users should seek permission from copyright holders before using their content and respect fair use or other applicable exceptions to copyright law. Additionally, websites and platforms often have their own terms of use that prohibit copyright infringement, and users who violate these terms could face account suspension or other consequences. If you're uncertain about whether your intended use of copyrighted material is permissible, it's advisable to seek legal guidance to ensure compliance with copyright laws.

Respecting the privacy of others is a fundamental principle in any online community or platform, including matrimonial websites. Users should follow guidelines and rules that promote privacy, protect personal information, and create a safe and respectful environment for all members. Here are some key aspects of respecting the privacy of others on a matrimonial website:

1. Confidentiality of Personal Information:

Users should never share personal information, such as contact details, addresses, financial information, or other sensitive data, publicly on the platform.

2. Use of Profile Information:

Users should respect the privacy settings of others' profiles. Information shared on profiles should be treated with discretion and not used for unauthorized purposes.

3. Consent for Communication:

Users should obtain consent before initiating private communication with others. Unsolicited messages or communication can be intrusive and disrespectful.

4. Photos and Media:

Users should not share, use, or distribute photos or media from other profiles without explicit permission. This includes respecting copyright and intellectual property rights.

5. Avoiding Harassment and Stalking:

Users must refrain from engaging in any form of harassment, stalking, or unwelcome attention towards others. Such behavior is invasive and disrespectful.

6. Respectful Language and Behavior:

Users should use respectful and courteous language when interacting with others. Offensive, inappropriate, or derogatory comments are not acceptable.

7. Sharing Personal Stories:

Users should avoid sharing personal stories or experiences of others without their consent. Respecting the privacy of someone's personal life is essential.

8. Data Security:

Users should prioritize the security of their own and others' data. This includes using strong passwords, practicing safe online behavior, and reporting any suspicious activity.

9. Reporting Violations:

Users should promptly report any privacy violations, harassment, or inappropriate behavior to the platform administrators for appropriate action.

10. Setting Boundaries:

Users have the right to set boundaries and decline communication or interactions they are uncomfortable with. Others should respect these boundaries.

11. Consent for Sharing Information:

If users intend to share information about others, such as testimonials or success stories, they should obtain explicit consent before doing so.

12. Minors' Privacy:

Users should be cautious when interacting with minors and adhere to legal and ethical guidelines regarding privacy and communication with young individuals.

Remember that promoting a culture of privacy and respect on a matrimonial website requires active involvement from both users and platform administrators. Guidelines should be clearly communicated, and violations should be addressed swiftly to ensure the safety and comfort of all users.

Service Charge Terms & Conditions

1. Service Description:

Our matrimonial website www.pairforever.in ("Website") provides matchmaking and matrimonial services to help users connect with potential life partners.

To access certain features and benefits on the Website, users may be required to pay service charges as outlined in these terms.

2. Service Charges and Payments:

Users may be required to pay service charges for premium membership plans, enhanced features, or other services as offered by the Website.

Service charges are outlined on the Website and may vary based on the duration of the subscription or the specific services chosen.

3. Payment Methods:

The Website accepts payment through various methods, including credit/debit cards, online payment gateways, or other designated payment methods.

Users are responsible for providing accurate and up to date payment information.

4. Renewals and Cancellations:

Subscriptions may be set to auto-renew by default. Users should review their subscription settings to understand renewal terms.

Users can cancel their subscription before the renewal date to avoid being charged for the next period.

5. Refunds:

Refund policies, if applicable, will be clearly outlined on the Website. Users should review these policies before making payments.

Refund requests, if permitted, must be made within the specified timeframe and in accordance with the refund policy.

6. Usage of Service:

Payment of service charges grants users access to the specified services for the chosen duration.

Users are expected to use the services in compliance with the Website's terms of use and any applicable laws.

7. Service Changes and Termination:

The Website reserves the right to modify, add, or remove services, features, or subscription plans at any time.

In the event of a violation of terms, the Website may suspend or terminate a user's access to paid services without refund.

8. Disputes:

Any disputes regarding service charges or payments should be communicated to the Website's customer support. We will endeavor to address and resolve disputes promptly.

9. Privacy and Security:

Payment information provided by users is subject to our privacy policy. We implement security measures to protect payment data.

10. Limitation of Liability:

The Website shall not be held liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, consequential, or punitive damages arising out of payment, service access, or usage.

11. Governing Law:

These Service Charge Terms & Conditions are governed by the laws of Indian laws. Any disputes will be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts in Hyderabad, Telangana State.

12. Changes to Terms:

The Website reserves the right to update or modify these Service Charge Terms & Conditions at any time. Continued use of the Website after such changes constitutes user acceptance of the updated terms.

By using the matrimonial website's services, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agreed to these Service Charge Terms & Conditions.

Right of Members Admission Reserved

1. Membership Eligibility:

The admission of members to the matrimonial website ("Website") is subject to the discretion and approval of the website administrators.

Membership is available to individuals who meet the eligibility criteria outlined on the Website.

2. Approval Process:

The Website administrators reserve the right to review and evaluate all membership applications before granting access to the platform.

The decision to admit a member is based on the provided information and adherence to the Website's terms of use.

3. Verification and Documentation:

The Website may require members to undergo verification processes, such as confirming their identity, age, or other relevant details, to ensure the authenticity of the membership application.

4. Quality Control:

The admission process is designed to maintain the quality and integrity of the matrimonial platform. The Website administrators may assess factors such as genuineness, appropriateness, and adherence to the Website's guidelines.

5. Rejection and Removal:

The Website administrators reserve the right to reject membership applications or remove members at their sole discretion, without providing reasons.

Members who violate the terms of use, engage in inappropriate behavior, or provide false information may have their membership revoked.

6. No Guarantee of Admission:

Submitting a membership application does not guarantee admission to the Website. The admission process is subject to the review and decision of the Website administrators.

7. Appeals Process:

In some cases, the Website may provide an appeals process for rejected applicants. The guidelines for appealing a rejection will be communicated to the applicant if applicable.

8. Changes to Admission Policy:

The Website reserves the right to update or modify the admission policy at any time. Continued use of the Website after such changes constitutes user acceptance of the updated policy.

9. Governing Law:

This "Right of Members Admission Reserved" clause is governed by the laws of [Indian laws. Any disputes will be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts in in Hyderabad, Telangana State.

By submitting a membership application and using the matrimonial website, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agreed to the "Right of Members Admission Reserved" clause and the Website's terms of use.

Community Members Terms & Conditions

1. Introduction:

The following "Community Members Terms & Conditions" outline the guidelines and expectations for individuals participating as members of the matrimonial website's community ("Website"). By becoming a community member, you agree to abide by these terms.

2. Membership Eligibility:

Community membership is available to registered users of the Website who meet the eligibility criteria set forth in the Website's general terms of use.

By becoming a community member, you confirm that you are eligible to participate and have read and understood the general terms of use.

3. Community Interaction:

As a community member, you are encouraged to engage in respectful, positive, and relevant discussions and interactions with other members.

Offensive, abusive, or discriminatory language or behavior is strictly prohibited and may result in immediate suspension or removal from the community.

4. Respect for Diversity:

The Website's community is a diverse platform where members come from different backgrounds, cultures, and beliefs. It's important to respect these differences and engage in conversations with an open mind.

5. Privacy and Confidentiality:

Community members should respect the privacy and confidentiality of other members. Do not share personal information or private messages without consent.

6. Contribution of Content:

Members are welcome to contribute posts, comments, and content to the community. Any content shared should be relevant, respectful, and in compliance with the Website's content guidelines.

7. Intellectual Property:

By contributing content to the community, you grant the Website a nonexclusive, royalty free license to use, reproduce, display, and distribute the content for the purpose of promoting and operating the community.

8. Moderation and Removal:

The Website administrators reserve the right to moderate, edit, or remove any content contributed by community members that violates these terms or the Website's guidelines.

9. Dispute Resolution:

In case of disagreements or disputes within the community, members are encouraged to address concerns respectfully and seek resolution through civil discourse.

10. No Commercial Promotion:

Community members should refrain from promoting commercial products, services, or other self-promotion in their posts or comments. Any form of spam or excessive self-promotion is not allowed.

11. Adherence to Laws:

Community members must adhere to all applicable laws and regulations when participating in the community. Any illegal activities or content will be promptly reported to relevant authorities.

12. Changes to Terms:

The Website reserves the right to update or modify these Community Members Terms & Conditions at any time. Continued participation in the community after such changes constitutes your acceptance of the updated terms.

13. Governing Law:

These Community Members Terms & Conditions are governed by the laws of India. Any disputes will be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts Hyderabad, Telangana State.

By participating as a community member in the matrimonial website, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agreed to these Community Members Terms & Conditions and the Website's general terms of use.

When it comes to inclusivity and creating a respectful environment for all users, including those who identify as LGBTQ+ (lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer, and other identities), it's important to have specific terms and conditions that emphasize nondiscrimination and respect for diversity. Here's an example of LGBTQ+ inclusive terms and conditions that you can consider incorporating into your matrimonial website's policies:

LGBTQ+ Inclusive Terms & Conditions

1. Inclusivity and Diversity:

Our matrimonial website ("Website") is committed to creating an inclusive and respectful environment for all users, regardless of their sexual orientation, gender identity, or any other characteristic.

Discrimination, harassment, or exclusion based on LGBTQ+ identity or any other protected characteristic is strictly prohibited.

2. Non-Discrimination:

Users are expected to treat all individuals with respect and dignity, irrespective of their sexual orientation, gender identity, or any other personal attribute.

Any form of discrimination, hate speech, or derogatory comments aimed at LGBTQ+ individuals or any other group is unacceptable.

3. Profile Content and Communication:

Users should respect the chosen gender identities, names, and pronouns of others as indicated in their profiles.

Mis-gendering or using derogatory language in communication or profiles is considered a violation of our terms.

4. Privacy and Safety:

We are committed to protecting the privacy and safety of all users, including LGBTQ+ individuals. Sharing personal information without consent or engaging in harassment will not be tolerated.

5. Community Inclusivity:

Our community is open to individuals of all sexual orientations and gender identities. Users are encouraged to engage in discussions and interactions that foster inclusivity and mutual understanding.

6. Reporting Inappropriate Behavior:

Users who encounter inappropriate behavior, discrimination, or harassment based on LGBTQ+ identity or any other characteristic should promptly report such incidents to the Website administrators.

7. Zero Tolerance Policy:

Any violation of these LGBTQ+ Inclusive Terms & Conditions, including discrimination or harassment, may result in immediate suspension or permanent removal from the platform.

8. Confidentiality of Information:

Users are expected to respect the confidentiality of any personal information shared by other users, including information related to LGBTQ+ identity.

9. Changes to Inclusivity Terms:

The Website reserves the right to update or modify these LGBTQ+ Inclusive Terms & Conditions at any time. Continued use of the Website after such changes constitutes user acceptance of the updated terms.

10. Governing Law:

These LGBTQ+ Inclusive Terms & Conditions are governed by the laws of [Your Jurisdiction]. Any disputes will be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts in [Your Jurisdiction].

By using the matrimonial website, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agreed to these LGBTQ+ Inclusive Terms & Conditions.

Promoting religious tolerance is crucial for creating a diverse and respectful community on any platform, including a matrimonial website. Here's an example of terms and conditions that emphasize religious tolerance:

Religious Tolerance Terms & Conditions

1. Inclusive Environment:

Our matrimonial website ("Website") is dedicated to fostering an inclusive and respectful community where individuals of all religious backgrounds can connect and interact.

2. Religious Diversity:

Users of the Website come from various religious backgrounds. Discrimination, hate speech, or intolerance based on religious beliefs is strictly prohibited.

3. Mutual Respect:

All users are expected to engage with respect and courtesy, regardless of their own religious beliefs or the beliefs of others.

4. Religious Freedom:

Users have the right to express their religious beliefs, practices, and traditions in a respectful manner.

Criticizing or demeaning someone's religious beliefs is not allowed and will be considered a violation of our terms.

5. Profile Information:

Users are free to indicate their religious affiliation on their profiles, but this information should not be used to discriminate or exclude others.

6. Discussion and Understanding:

Open discussions about religion are encouraged, as long as they remain respectful and avoid derogatory language or disrespectful remarks about any religion.

7. Reporting Inappropriate Behavior:

Users who encounter any form of religious discrimination, hate speech, or intolerance should promptly report such incidents to the Website administrators.

8. Zero Tolerance Policy:

Any violation of these Religious Tolerance Terms & Conditions, including religious discrimination, may result in immediate suspension or permanent removal from the platform.

9. Confidentiality of Information:

Users are expected to respect the confidentiality of any religious information shared by other users.

10. Changes to Tolerance Terms:

The Website reserves the right to update or modify these Religious Tolerance Terms & Conditions at any time. Continued use of the Website after such changes constitutes user acceptance of the updated terms.

11. Governing Law:

These Religious Tolerance Terms & Conditions are governed by the laws of India. Any disputes will be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts in Hyderabad, Telangana State

By using the matrimonial website, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agreed to these Religious Tolerance Terms & Conditions.

Under Indian law, marrying a woman by concealing one's identity or providing false information is considered a form of fraud. This type of marriage is often referred to as "marriage by deception" or "marriage by concealment of identity." This practice is seen as a violation of the woman's right to make an informed decision about her marriage.

Section 493 of the Indian Penal Code (IPC) deals with the offense of "Cohabitation caused by a man deceitfully inducing a belief of lawful marriage." It states:

"Every man who by deceit causes any woman who is not lawfully married to him to believe that she is lawfully married to him and to cohabit or have sexual intercourse with him in that belief, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to ten years, and shall also be liable to fine."

This provision is intended to protect women from being deceived into marriage and engaging in sexual relationships under false pretenses. It recognizes the importance of informed consent in marital relationships.

The Prohibition of Child Marriage Act, 2006 is a significant piece of legislation in India aimed at preventing child marriages and protecting the rights of children, particularly young girls. The act was enacted to address the issue of child marriage, which has adverse social, health, and economic consequences for individuals and society as a whole. Here's an elaboration on the key provisions and features of the act:

Title: Prohibition of Child Marriage Act, 2006

Objective:

The primary objective of the act is to prohibit the solemnization of child marriages and provide legal measures to prevent and annul such marriages.

Key Provisions:

1. Definition of Child Marriage:

The act defines a child marriage as a marriage where either of the contracting parties is a minor, i.e., a male below 21 years of age or a female below 18 years of age.

2. Prohibition of Child Marriages:

The act prohibits the solemnization of child marriages. It makes it an offense to marry a child or to facilitate, aid, or promote child marriages.

3. Punishment for Child Marriage:

Anyone who performs, conducts, directs, or abets a child marriage can be punished with imprisonment that may extend up to two years and/or a fine.

4. Punishment for Promoting Child Marriage:

Individuals who promote or facilitate child marriages can also be penalized with imprisonment of up to two years and/or a fine.

5. Protection of Children:

The act places emphasis on protecting the rights and interests of children. It provides for compensation to be paid to the female contracting party to the marriage, if she is a child, to ensure her maintenance and support until she attains the age of 18 years.

6. Nullity of Child Marriage:

Child marriages are declared voidable at the option of the contracting parties. A child bride can seek annulment of the marriage if she so desires, within two years of attaining the age of 18 years.

7. Protection Officers:

The act designates Protection Officers at the district level to prevent child marriages and ensure the enforcement of the act. They are responsible for preventing child marriages, assisting victims, and taking necessary legal action.

8. Awareness and Programs:

The act encourages the government to implement awareness programs and campaigns to educate people about the consequences of child marriages and the importance of age appropriate marriages.

9. Reporting of Child Marriages:

The act mandates the reporting of child marriages to the authorities. Failure to report a child marriage can result in penalties.

Legal Framework:

The Prohibition of Child Marriage Act, 2006, is an important legal framework aimed at eradicating child marriage practices. It complements other relevant laws and provisions in the Indian legal system that protect the rights of children and promote gender equality.

Impact and Challenges:

While the act has played a role in raising awareness about the harms of child marriage and promoting its prevention, challenges such as social norms, lack of awareness, and enforcement difficulties persist. Addressing child marriage requires a multipronged approach involving legal, social, educational, and community interventions.

Conclusion:

The Prohibition of Child Marriage Act, 2006, is a step towards ensuring the wellbeing and rights of children, particularly girls, and addressing the harmful practice of child marriage. However, its success depends on continuous efforts to raise awareness, change attitudes, and enforce the provisions effectively.

The Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961 is an important legislation in India aimed at eradicating the practice of dowry and protecting women from dowry related harassment and abuse. Dowry is a traditional practice where the family of the bride is expected to give valuable assets or gifts to the groom's family at the time of marriage. The Dowry Prohibition Act was enacted to address the social evils associated with dowry and to provide legal measures to prevent and penalize those involved in demanding or giving dowry.

Here's an elaboration on the key provisions and features of the Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961:

Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961

Objective:

The primary objective of the act is to prohibit the giving or taking of dowry in connection with marriages and to prevent the dowry related harassment and abuse of women.

Key Provisions:

1. Definition of Dowry:

The act defines dowry as any property, valuable security, or money given or agreed to be given either directly or indirectly by one party to a marriage to the other party.

2. Prohibition of Dowry:

The act prohibits the giving or taking of dowry. It makes it an offense to demand, receive, or give dowry before or after the marriage.

3. Penalties for Offenses:

The act prescribes stringent penalties for offenses related to dowry. Anyone found guilty of demanding or receiving dowry can be punished with imprisonment that may extend up to five years and a fine that is at least equal to the amount of the dowry demanded or received.

4. Protection for Women:

The act aims to protect women from dowry related harassment. If the death of a woman within seven years of her marriage is shown to be caused by cruelty or harassment related to dowry, it is deemed to be a "dowry death," and those responsible can be punished with imprisonment for a term that may extend up to seven years.

5. Burden of Proof:

The act places the burden of proof on the accused to prove that they have not committed an offense under the act. This helps to prevent misuse of the law against innocent individuals.

6. Report of Dowry Transactions:

The act also makes it an offense to publish, print, or distribute any material that promotes dowry or dowry related practices.

7. Power to Make Rules:

The government has the power to make rules for carrying out the purposes of the act, including rules related to the form of complaints, the manner of investigation, and other procedural matters.

Impact and Challenges:

While the Dowry Prohibition Act has played a significant role in curbing the dowry system and protecting women's rights, challenges such as social norms, lack of awareness, and underreporting of cases persist. Enforcement and awareness campaigns are crucial to combating the deep rooted issue of dowry related practices.

Conclusion:

The Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961, reflects the commitment of the Indian legal system to addressing the harmful practice of dowry and ensuring the protection of women's rights. While the act has contributed to raising awareness and empowering women, its effectiveness depends on collaborative efforts from society, government agencies, and NGOs to eliminate dowry related abuse and harassment.

Fundamental rights are a set of basic rights and freedoms that are enshrined in the Constitution of a country to safeguard the individual liberties and dignity of its citizens. In India, the Fundamental Rights are outlined in Part III (Articles 12 to 35) of the Constitution. These rights are considered essential for the overall development and wellbeing of individuals, and they form the bedrock of a democratic and just society.

It's important to note that Fundamental Rights are protected by the judiciary, and citizens have the right to approach the courts if their Fundamental Rights are violated. The Indian judiciary plays a crucial role in interpreting and upholding these rights to ensure justice, equality, and liberty for all citizens.

"Universal Matrimony" is not a specific term or concept that is universally recognized in the context of matrimonial laws or constitutions. However, I can provide you with a general overview of how matrimonial laws and principles might be applicable universally or in different countries based on their respective constitutions and legal systems.

1. Universal Human Rights Principles:

Many countries adhere to universal human rights principles that include the right to marry and found a family. These principles are often derived from international agreements such as the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights. Countries that are signatories to these agreements are expected to uphold these principles in their domestic laws.

2. Marriage as a Fundamental Right:

In various legal systems, including those with constitutional frameworks, marriage is often considered a fundamental right. Constitutions may guarantee the right to marry and establish a family, subject to certain restrictions that are consistent with public order, health, and morality.

3. Equal Protection and Non-Discrimination:

Many constitutions emphasize the principles of equal protection and nondiscrimination, which extend to matters of marriage. This means that individuals should not be discriminated against based on factors such as gender, race, religion, or other protected characteristics in matters of marriage and family.

4. Family Law and Customary Practices:

Different countries have different family laws and customary practices that regulate marriage. These laws may be influenced by cultural, religious, and social factors. While some aspects of family law might be influenced by universal principles, the specifics can vary widely.

5. Recognition of Foreign Marriages:

Some countries recognize marriages conducted in other countries, provided they meet certain legal and procedural requirements. This recognition often depends on whether the foreign marriage adheres to the legal principles of the recognizing country.

6. Choice of Marriage Partners:

Most countries uphold the principle of free choice in marriage partners. However, laws regarding consent, minimum age, and other factors can vary from one jurisdiction to another.

7. Legal Requirements for Marriage:

Most countries have legal requirements for marriage, such as obtaining a marriage license, solemnization by an authorized person, and registration. These requirements are intended to ensure the validity of marriages.

Obligation to Follow Native Constitution's Marriage Laws

By using this matrimonial website www.pairforever.in ("Website"), you acknowledge and agree to abide by the marriage laws, regulations, and legal framework of your native country's constitution when engaging in any matrimonial related activities facilitated by this platform. It is your responsibility to ensure that any interactions, communications, and engagements on this Website adhere to the laws and regulations governing marriage and related matters in your jurisdiction.

User's Responsibility:

1. Compliance with Local Laws: Users are required to familiarize themselves with and comply with the marriage laws, regulations, and customs applicable in their country of residence or citizenship.
2. Legal Age of Marriage: Users must ensure that they are of the legally permissible age to marry as defined by their native country's laws.
3. Consent and Legal Formalities: Users shall adhere to the consent requirements and legal formalities prescribed by their native country's marriage laws.
4. Recognition of Foreign Marriages: Users engaging in international or crossborder interactions should ensure that any potential marriages, partnerships, or arrangements comply with the relevant laws and regulations of both parties' jurisdictions.

Website's Role:

1. Information Sharing: The Website may provide general information about marriage laws and practices as a reference, but users are advised to independently verify the accuracy and applicability of this information in their native context.
2. No Legal Advice: The Website does not provide legal advice or opinions. Users are encouraged to seek legal counsel from qualified professionals for specific legal matters.

Indemnification:

Users shall indemnify and hold the Website, its owners, operators, and affiliates harmless from any claims, liabilities, or damages arising from their failure to comply with the marriage laws and regulations of their native country.

By using this Website, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agreed to comply with your native constitution's marriage laws and regulations, and you take full responsibility for any interactions or engagements facilitated through this platform.

Disclaimer

Welcome to www.pairforever.in ("Website"). By using this Website, you acknowledge and agree to the following terms:

1. General Information: The information provided on this Website is for general informational purposes only. It is not intended as legal, financial, or professional advice. Users are advised to seek independent advice before making any decisions based on the information provided.
2. Accuracy of Information: While we strive to provide accurate and upto date information, we do not make any warranties or representations regarding the accuracy, completeness, or reliability of the information on this Website.

3. User Responsibility: Users are solely responsible for evaluating the accuracy, completeness, and usefulness of any information or services provided on this Website. Any reliance you place on such information is at your own risk.

4. User Conduct: Users are expected to conduct themselves responsibly and in compliance with all applicable laws and regulations. We do not endorse or accept responsibility for any interactions, communications, or engagements between users.

5. Third Party Content: This Website may contain links to thirdparty websites or content. We do not endorse, control, or assume responsibility for the content, privacy policies, or practices of any third party websites.

6. Liability Limitation: In no event shall we be liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, consequential, special, or exemplary damages arising out of or in connection with the use or inability to use this Website or any information contained herein.

7. Changes to Website: We reserve the right to modify, suspend, or discontinue any aspect of this Website at any time without notice.

8. No Guarantee of Outcomes: The use of this Website does not guarantee any specific outcomes, results, or matches. We do not warrant or guarantee the success or suitability of any matrimonial matches or engagements that may result from using this platform.

9. Intellectual Property: All content on this Website, including but not limited to text, graphics, images, logos, and software, is protected by intellectual property rights and is the property of [Your Company Name] unless otherwise indicated.

10. Governing Law: This disclaimer is governed by the laws of [Your Jurisdiction]. Any disputes will be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts in [Your Jurisdiction].

By using this Website, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agreed to this disclaimer. If you do not agree with these terms, please do not use this Website.

Data Utility Disclaimer

Welcome to www.pairforever.in ("Website"). By using this Website, you acknowledge and agree to the following terms regarding the collection, use, and protection of your personal data:

1. Data Collection: We may collect personal information from users, including but not limited to names, contact details, demographic information, and preferences, during the registration and use of our services.

2. Data Use: The information collected may be used to facilitate matrimonial matches, improve our services, and communicate with users regarding potential matches, updates, and relevant content.

3. Data Protection: We take your data privacy seriously and employ reasonable security measures to protect your information. However, we cannot guarantee the security of your data during transmission or storage.

4. Data Sharing: We may share user data, including profiles, with other registered users for the purpose of facilitating potential matrimonial matches. Users have the option to choose what information is visible to others.

5. Third Parties: We may engage third party service providers to assist in various aspects of our services, such as payment processing. These providers may have access to your personal data but are obligated to protect it.

6. Cookies and Analytics: This Website may use cookies and similar technologies to enhance your experience and analyze user behavior. By using this Website, you consent to the use of cookies as described in our Privacy Policy.

7. User Responsibility: Users are responsible for the accuracy and completeness of the information they provide on their profiles. Sharing false or misleading information may impact potential matches.

8. Opt Out: Users have the right to opt out of receiving nonessential communications from us. However, certain communications related to account maintenance or security are considered essential.

9. Changes to Policy: We reserve the right to modify this Data Utility Disclaimer at any time. Changes will be effective upon posting on the Website. Continued use of the Website after changes implies acceptance of the updated terms.

10. Governing Law: This Data Utility Disclaimer is governed by the laws of [by Indian laws]. Any disputes will be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts in Hyderabad, Telangana State

By using this Website, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agreed to this Data Utility Disclaimer. If you do not agree with these terms, please do not use this Website.

1. Pictures:

Pictures are an essential part of any matrimonial profile as they provide a visual representation of the individual. Users typically upload photographs of themselves to give others a sense of their appearance. It's important to emphasize that users should upload accurate and recent pictures to maintain transparency. Privacy considerations should be taken into account, and users should be informed about who can view their pictures and how they can manage their visibility settings.

2. Age:

Age is a fundamental piece of information that helps match individuals based on their compatibility. Matrimonial websites often use age ranges to narrow down potential matches. Users should provide their accurate age to ensure accurate matching and avoid misleading others. It's important to have mechanisms in place to verify users' ages, especially considering the legal implications of age related regulations.

3. Community:

Community refers to a user's cultural or religious background. Many individuals seek partners from similar cultural or religious communities due to shared values and traditions. Users might select their community from a predefined list or provide this information in text. However, it's important to ensure that users do not use community information to discriminate against others or perpetuate stereotypes.

4. Education:

Education is another key criterion that users consider when searching for potential partners. Users may provide details about their educational background, such as degrees earned, institutions attended, and fields of study. This information helps users gauge compatibility in terms of educational aspirations and values.

Privacy and Security Considerations:

1. Consent and Transparency:

Users should provide their data willingly and with a clear understanding of how it will be used. Ensure that your privacy policy clearly outlines data usage, sharing practices, and user control over their information.

2. Data Security:

Data security is paramount. Implement robust security measures to protect user data from unauthorized access, breaches, or misuse. Encryption and secure data storage practices are crucial.

3. Data Sharing:

If you share user data with potential matches or third parties, clearly communicate this to users and provide them with options to control the visibility of their information.

4. User Control:

Allow users to control their data and profile visibility settings. Users should have the option to edit, update, or delete their information as needed.

5. Sensitive Information:

Some data, such as financial information or contact details, might be considered sensitive. Collect only necessary information and ensure its secure handling.

6. Age Verification:

Depending on your jurisdiction's legal requirements, consider implementing age verification methods to prevent underage users from accessing your platform.

In India, data protection laws and regulations have evolved over time to address the growing concerns related to the collection, processing, and protection of personal data. The most prominent legislation in this context is the Personal Data Protection Bill, 2019, which is currently under review by the Indian government.

Cross Border Data Transfer: Cross border transfer of personal data will be subject to certain conditions and the approval of the DPA.

Data Collection and Privacy Policy

At www.pairforever.in, we prioritize the security and privacy of our users' personal information. We want to assure you that we do not solicit or collect sensitive information such as bank account details and OTP (One Time Passwords) for any purpose on our platform. No one calls regarding payments and bank account details.

Our Commitment:

1. No Financial Information: We do not request or store any bank account details, credit card information, or any other financial data from our users.
2. No OTP Solicitation: We do not ask for OTPs (One Time Passwords) or any other confidential authentication codes on our platform.
3. Privacy and Security: Your privacy and data security are our utmost concern. We implement industry standard security measures to protect the information you provide to us.

User Responsibility:

1. Avoid Sharing Sensitive Data: Please be cautious and avoid sharing any sensitive financial information, OTPs, or other confidential data with anyone claiming to be associated with www.pairforever.in. We do not engage in such practices.

Reporting Suspicious Activity:

If you encounter any suspicious activity or requests for sensitive information related to our platform, please contact our customer support immediately.

Third Party Links and Scams:

Please note that our platform may contain links to third party websites or advertisements. We strongly advise our users to exercise caution when interacting with external links and to avoid sharing any sensitive information outside of our secure platform.

We are committed to maintaining a safe and secure environment for all our users. If you have any concerns about the security of your data or any other matters, please feel free to contact our support team.

Thank you for choosing www.pairforever.in

Third Party Links:

Third party links refer to hyperlinks that lead users from one website to another, usually operated by a different entity. On a matrimonial website, these could be advertisements, affiliate links, or external content. Here are some key points to consider:

1. Unintended Content: Clicking on third party links can lead users to websites with content that the original website does not control. This content may vary widely in terms of relevance, quality, and safety.
2. Privacy and Security: Clicking on third party links might expose users to potential privacy and security risks, especially if the external website collects personal information or engages in malicious activities.
3. Trustworthiness: Not all third party websites are trustworthy. Some might engage in phishing, scams, or misleading practices. Users might mistakenly assume that the content is endorsed or controlled by the original website.
4. User Education: It's important to educate users about the presence of third party links and how to identify them. Clear labeling and disclaimers can help users make informed decisions.

Scams:

Scams refer to fraudulent schemes or deceptive practices aimed at tricking individuals into divulging sensitive information, making payments, or engaging in actions that benefit the scammer. On a matrimonial website, scams can take various forms:

1. Romance Scams: Scammers create fake profiles to develop emotional connections with users and manipulate them into sending money or personal information.
2. Phishing: Scammers send fraudulent emails, messages, or notifications that appear legitimate, aiming to trick users into revealing sensitive information like passwords, OTPs, or financial data.
3. Advance Fee Fraud: Scammers promise various benefits, such as arranging meetings or expedited services, but demand upfront payments or fees before fulfilling their promises.
4. Identity Theft: Scammers might steal users' personal information from the platform and use it for fraudulent purposes.

Protecting Users:

To protect users from third party links and scams:

1. Educate Users: Provide clear guidelines on recognizing scams, phishing attempts, and third party links. Offer resources on online safety.
2. Verification: Implement a robust verification process for user profiles to minimize fake accounts and scams.
3. Report Mechanisms: Offer a way for users to report suspicious activities, profiles, or messages. Respond promptly to user reports.
4. Safe Interaction Guidelines: Offer guidelines on safe online interaction, including not sharing sensitive information and being cautious with financial transactions.
5. Moderation: Monitor user activity and content to identify and remove suspicious or harmful profiles.